It was a good consultation. Daniel was formal-friendly from the off. I liked how he called my name in full! He asked questions and listened to my responses. He worked well with his assistant and he asked permission to have the girl on work experience sit in. He was patient with his assistant whilst also being attentive to me. He was juggling a lot of stakeholders in that room but giving us all care and attention. Regarding my teeth the consultation was informative. I liked how he used skill to assess my teeth and didn't rely just on technology. He measured and assessed me with care and attention. Giving me time to ask questions at each stage and showing me what he treatment he was proposing. It was a very good consultation.

After arriving in London, my son had already worn braces for 1 year, it was important to continue the treatment correctly. They turned to Ines, a super specialist, first an overview of what was before and what the situation is after a year of using braces, a new appointment. We have been with Ines for half a year now, she is just a super specialist, everything is fast, high-quality and professional. We are very satisfied, I recommend that if you need system braces, you should be treated only at Ines. Half Moon Dental Center you are the best!

I have been very happy with my two visits to the surgery so far. Dr Sharma had suggested a way of eliminating the sensitivity to my teeth and the treatment was carried out today. Dr Sharma was very gentle and reassuring. He took time to explain what he was doing and encouraged me to take breaks if I needed to. He was very understanding of my nervousness I did not feel at all rushed. At the end of the treatment I had no sensitivity and was then able to go straight to the hygienist, Kasia, who did an excellent job of cleaning my teeth. I am actually looking forward to my next visit. I am very impressed with the surgery. The reception staff were also very welcoming and friendly.

Lucy is a perfect dentist in that she is extremely clear, thorough and kind and has looked after me so well with Kevin her dental nurse. She is so gentle and whilst I have had very traumatic times with dentists, including having seen a psychologist and a pain clinic, and am very anxious about my dental work, Lucy has helped me so much. She has been able to help me with referrals to the dental hospital, supports me with so much information and encouraging advice. She is really such a precious asset to the surgery and such a model of excellence - I feel so lucky to be able to see her with the NHS practice and would recommend her to anyone, I do hope Lucy stays at HMDC for ever.

EMERGENCY Tuesday, 25 October 2016

I am a very nervous dental patient and have seen two dentists in the past week for treatment for an abscess. Both dentists had a fantastic manner and explained the problem with a lot of detail. I felt like they were genuinely there to help me as opposed to me just being another patient. I had strong medication and was given good advice about the side effects etc., and couldn't believe how helpful the lady at reception was when I rang up in a panic that the abscess had swelled up again. She explained how I could relieve the pain at home and encouraged me to call if I had any concerns at all. I also explained that I am going on holiday for a month next week, so an appointment was left open for me should I require any treatment after my review so that I didn't have to wait until after my holiday. Everyone has been so accommodating, professional and kind. As someone who you can't usually get in the waiting room of a surgery, I was very impressed and feel like it's really helped with my confidence at the dentist. Thank you!

The dentists and hygenists! I have great confidence. I have seen Daniel recently- he is kind, sensible, sensitive, genuine and technically excellent, as far as I can judge. I have never had a bad dentist here- always good and the hygenists are really excellent. They do a thorough job without hurting. I have been had several dentists through my life as I have moved around etc. This is by far the best practice I have come across.

best dental service I have ever received as a very nervous patient. Claudia and Keith both get the thumbs up from me. Got the job done despite the fuss I made, and they made me feel that they cared about how I was feeling and went at a pace I was comfortable at - happy to explain everything, or not explain depending on your preference. For any one experiencing gum problems who are not satisfied with their current treatment I would advise having a consultation with Half Moon.

The waiting room is bright and modern. The loos the same. The dentist was patient (very patient) and took care to explain everything carefully. Although I was incredibly nervous and really did not want to be there, he and the assistant were kind, caring and efficient. I am very happy I have moved to the practice and anticipate I won't be 'on the run' from my dentist in the future. Thank you.

Examination Friday, 20 December 2013

The whole experience at the Half Moon has always been very professional, friendly and competent. The option to book and manage appointments online has improved the experience. A special mention to the hygienist I saw on 17/12/13 (Lillya?) who was standing in for the day. She was excellent. Extremely competent and engaging and did an excellent job polishing my teeth.
